2. Director’s Report: P. Kass
   • Dangerous Intersection Campus Drive & Johnson Street
     ▪ This is a city intersection and the University will continue to work with the city to make improvements in this area.
   • Campus Bike Rack’s & Abandon Bikes
     ▪ Currently have 14,515 bike stalls
     ▪ Plan to add 1,200 over the next couple of years based on 43,000 students
     ▪ 307 abandon bikes last fiscal year (FY17)
     ▪ 243 bikes have been collected this fiscal year with 107 of those going to SWAP.
     ▪ Chuck Strawser and students tag the bikes and remove them to be transferred to SWAP.
     ▪ Bikes are considered abandon after 72 hours of being chained to the same place with exception of bike areas around University Housing.
     ▪ Beth Waite will check with UWPD on the number of stolen bikes and she will report back to Chuck Strawser.
     ▪ The University does not have a bike registration program, however, students, faculty and staff are encourage to register their bikes with the City of Madison.
     ▪ Transportation Services makes an effort to contact the registrant on bikes. The bikes are held for minimum 60 days before released to SWAP where they become state property.
     ▪ Most bikes are junk and sold for parts.
     ▪ Some of the bikes are salvaged and used for campus departmental bikes.
     ▪ This is a revenue loss for Transportation Services as we pay to transport the bikes to SWAP.
   • Parkmobile Pro’s and Con’s
     ▪ Revenue low for the first three months and then equal or slightly above coin meters after the third month.
     ▪ Saved $11,000 in labor but this is offset by credit card fees.
     ▪ No longer have the long term meters across campus and they are limited to 4-5 larger areas on campus.
     ▪ There were some systems problems initially when the program was implemented and these have now been reduced considerably.

- A big positive is that we are no longer dealing with cash.
- Troy Ruland will look up the number of citations related to Parkmobile for the December meeting.

Self-driving Buses

- UW is one of ten entities to participate in US DOT study regarding autonomous vehicles.
- The University has all three phases of testing:
  - Oval Track
  - Road Track
  - Live Road Testing
- Timeframe – it will be several years out for the live road testing.
- Cost is $500,000 per bus.
- Once a vehicle is received, track testing can begin. This will most likely be a small bus.
- Specifically looking at pedestrian/bike interaction and snow & ice conditions.
- The ten selected test site locations will need to collaborate with each other.
- The testing will be done in a very controlled environment.
